

Protecting Water Quality in the Winter

Prior to applying road salt to driveways and sidewalks, you should always clear the snow and break up ice as much as possible.

Always use the “just enough” principle with road salt. Two heaping coffee cups of salt is typically enough for a two-car driveway. Remember, more salt doesn’t mean more melting.

Once the snow and ice is melted, sweep up leftover road salt for reuse.

